Call for Papers

The Frontiers in Managerial and Organizational Cognition conference is devoted to understanding individual, relational, and collective cognition in organizational contexts. This year, the conference aims to explore managerial and organizational cognition challenges that organizations will face in the future.

We are committed to providing a forum for high quality conceptual, empirical, and computer simulation papers across the full spectrum of conversations that advance the frontiers of managerial and organizational cognition.

Conference Program

Frontiers in the Rough

The conference kicks off with the “Frontiers in the Rough” workshop in the morning of May 28. The workshop emulates the “Cognition in the Rough” format known from the AOM’s annual meeting, but with even more time for feedback, inspiration and thought exchange. Each roundtable will have at least 2 facilitators to give feedback on 2-3 papers.

Confirmed workshop facilitators include:
- Emily Block (University of Alberta)
- Kevin Corley (Arizona State University)
- Stephanie Creary (Wharton School)
- Laura Illia (University of Fribourg)
- Reddi Kotha (Singapore Management University)
- Christopher Myers (Johns Hopkins University)
- Lakshmi Ramarajan (Harvard Business School)
- Kevin Rockmann (George Mason University)
- David Sluss (Georgia Tech)
- Kenneth Tai (Singapore Management University)
- Shannon Taylor (University of Central Florida)
- Stefan Thau (INSEAD)
- Heather Vough (George Mason University)
- Lee Watkiss (Ivey Business School)

Traditional Paper Presentations

Traditional paper presentation sessions will occur on both days of the conference. The paper presentations will be organized along eight tracks. Each track session will begin with a keynote presentation from a senior scholar.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Track Name</th>
<th>Track Description &amp; Track Chair</th>
<th>Keynote Presenter</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New Forms of Leadership and Teams</td>
<td>Organizations of the future will require new forms of leadership and teams. Traditional theories of leadership and teams will no longer apply. What will these new forms of leadership and teams look like? Chair: Christopher Myers (Johns Hopkins University)</td>
<td>Henrik Bresman (INSEAD)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Organizational and Human Capital Policies and Strategies</td>
<td>With the rise of threats to stable employment (e.g., gig work, artificial intelligence), how will organizational and human capital policies and strategies adapt and innovate to keep employees motivated and engaged? Chair: Sinhui Chong (Nanyang Technological University)</td>
<td>Jason Shaw (Nanyang Technological University)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Trust, Diversity and Inclusion</td>
<td>Our future workplaces will be more diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality or sexual orientation. How do we build trust and inclusion in increasingly diverse organizations? Chair: David Daniels (HKUST)</td>
<td>Hwee Hoon Tan (Singapore Management University)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Justice, Ethics and Deviance</td>
<td>Organizations face rising pressures to adopt and enforce just and ethical business practices. What can be done to reduce the unethical or deviant behavior of employees and improve the ethical culture of organizations? Chair: Shannon Taylor (University of Central Florida) &amp; Madeline Ong (HKUST)</td>
<td>Michael Bashshur (Singapore Management University)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Entrepreneurship and Innovation</td>
<td>Entrepreneurship and innovation will be increasingly important for firms and economies to remain dynamic and competitive, especially in the face of looming global instability. What can be done to promote greater entrepreneurship and innovation in the future? Chair: Jared Nai (Singapore Management University)</td>
<td>Bala Vissa (INSEAD)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainability</td>
<td>There are growing demands for corporations to prioritize social responsibility and sustainability as consumers and stakeholders start looking beyond price and quality. How will corporations of the future manage tensions between their economic goals, and their social or environmental goals? Chair: Laura Illia (University of Fribourg)</td>
<td>Heli Wang (Singapore Management University)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Networks and Organizations</td>
<td>The organization of the future is embedded within networks of interconnected organizations, and also contains networks of individuals and teams. What are the implications of social networks for future organizations? Chair: Yonghoon Lee (HKUST)</td>
<td>Martin Gargiulo (INSEAD)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Opening Address, Master Class and Editors Panel

On May 28, there will be a welcome address by Professor Gerry George, Dean of Singapore Management University and past AMJ Editor.

On May 29, in the morning, there will be a master class on “Machine Learning” by Professor Phanish Puranam of INSEAD.

We will conclude the conference with a panel discussion involving Associate Editors at AMJ.

Submission Information

Submissions should be a 2-3 page summary of your paper. We accept both early stage work and more fully developed papers. Submissions must be accompanied by a 250-word abstract as well as up to 5 keywords. Submission manuscripts should be anonymized with no information that might associate the work to the author(s).

For the Frontiers in the Rough Workshop, if your submission is accepted, you must be able to share a longer write-up (about 1500 words) with us by April 30, 2020. This write-up should include the research topic, conceptual framework, research question, methods, anticipated contributions to research/practice or key findings (if research is complete) as well as challenges you are facing. You must also be able to read the write-ups of 2-3 other participants at the same table and provide feedback.

For the Traditional Paper Presentations, you will also be asked to select two research track preferences (with the option of selecting “others”) that best align with your research.

When submitting a manuscript please indicate the session format (Frontiers in the Rough Workshop or Traditional Paper Presentation) that you think is the best fit for your work, but please take note that the review committee may change the original presentation category at its discretion.

Please submit your paper by Sunday, December 1, 2019, 23:59 EST.

Submission website: Click here

Key Dates

- Submission opens: Thursday, October 3, 2019
- Submission deadline: Sunday, December 1, 2019, 23:59 EST.
- Notification of Acceptance: Tuesday, December 31, 2019
- Registration opens: Wednesday, January 1, 2020
- Early-Bird Registration ends: Sunday, April 12, 2020
- Final registration deadline: Sunday, May 24, 2020

Conference Fees

- Early Bird Fees: USD150 for students and USD250 for faculty
- Regular Fees (after April 12, 2020): USD200 for students and USD300 for faculty
Events website: http://eventregistration.smu.edu.sg/d/bhqm0

Conference Organizers

If you have any questions, please reach out to:

Jared Nai (Singapore Management University): jarednai@smu.edu.sg

Madeline Ong (Hong Kong University of Science and Technology): ongm@ust.hk

Abhijeet K. Vadera (Singapore Management University), MOC Division Chair: abhijeetv@smu.edu.sg